FINEST IN THE ALPS

British-run Alps Accommodation is offering deluxe accommodation in the Grand Massif. Tom Ward-Lee, and his wife, Alison, manage Samoens' finest selection of over 30 premier and luxury chalets and apartments.

Samoens is linked with Flaine, Morillon, Les Carroz and Sixt in the Grand Massif, which offers 265km of piste and over 140 individual runs for all abilities.

Dating from the 13th century and set against spectacular scenery, Samoens' medieval town centre offers extensive shopping, bars and cafes, an ice-rink and over 25 restaurants – Savoyard fondue, raclette and other traditional local dishes are available in all Samoens restaurants – or can be provided in the chalets too.

Alps Accommodation director Alison said: "We have selected our accommodation with families in mind, conveniently located, equipped with games consoles, DVD players with family DVDs and practical necessities such as highchairs and cots."

The company also caters to serious skiers, directing them to the most challenging pistes and arranging guides and transport.
